SOUND FAMILIAR?

You built it. They're still using spreadsheets.

You spent months on flows, data cleanup, dashboards, training. Login rates still aren't where they should be.

Not because the system doesn't work. Because it doesn't feel like theirs.

The platform looks like Salesforce — not like your mission.

What a Salesforce implementation really costs a mid-size nonprofit

$160K–$430K

typical 3-year total cost of ownership for mid-size nonprofits

Salesforce Licensing

Beyond free Power of Us licenses

Implementation

$25K–$75K upfront

Admin staffing

$70K–$110K/yr — the biggest hidden cost

Apps + integrations

AppExchange, migration, training

The platform is ready. Are your people?

#1 barrier

is org culture —

88% of employed Americans agree: belonging leads to higher productivity — Ipsos, 2022

51% of employees who recently quit cited lack of belonging — McKinsey

For lean nonprofit teams, disengagement isn't abstract — it's a budget problem.

Not pretty. Purposeful.

Your colors — Not Salesforce blue — your brand, your identity

Your language — Mission-aligned field labels and page titles, not generic CRM terminology

Your front door — A homepage that looks like your org, not the default App Launcher

Your workflow — Navigation that reflects how your team works, not Salesforce's assumptions

Your people first — Visual hierarchy that surfaces what matters to your staff

None of this requires a developer.

People engage differently when a platform feels like it was built for them.

71%

of media and entertainment spend among diverse consumer groups is driven by whether content feels like it was made for them.

Deloitte Digital Media Trends, 2024

The same principle applies to your Salesforce org. Generic platform = generic relationship to the work.

They're not entering data. They're driving the mission.

A well-defined brand doesn't just look good — it lets your people flourish

90% of employees feel more motivated

when working for an organization with a strong sense of purpose — and 70% prefer purpose-driven employers over those without.

Engagement & culture = 41% of resignations

When Gallup grouped quit reasons into categories, culture and engagement were the single biggest driver — outranking pay, benefits, and advancement.

Gallup Global Retention Report, 2024

The bottom line: brand isn't decoration. It's the environment that determines whether your people show up fully — or don't show up at all.

This isn't a solo project.

TECHNOLOGY LEADER

- Salesforce configuration
- Lightning Theme Builder
- App Launcher + navigation
- Custom homepage components
- Field label strategy
- Data integrity & adoption metrics

BRAND LEADER

- Brand standards + color palette
- Voice and language guidelines
- Mission storytelling
- Visual identity consistency
- Staff-facing communication
- Culture and belonging strategy

This partnership is rarer than it should be — and it's exactly where the magic happens.

Where to start in Lightning Experience

01

Lightning Theme Builder

Set your brand colors, logo, and background. Setup → Themes and Branding. Takes 15 minutes.

02

Custom App Homepage

Replace the default App Launcher landing with a custom homepage using Lightning App Builder.

03

App Launcher + Nav Bar

Rename apps to match your org's language. Reorder navigation to reflect how your team moves through their day.

04

Field & Object Labels

"Contact" → "Community Member." "Account" → "Partner Organization." Language signals belonging.

None of this requires a developer or a Scratch Org. It's all clicks.

Coming Soon: Changes to Scholar Activities

Scholar Activity records are getting updated! You will soon have options to document Hope Ignites Programming, Extracurriculars, or Awards and Accomplishments. You can preview the new record types from individual scholar records now or by watching the demo video below. We invite your feedback and suggestions for changes by April 1. The new format will be finalized and become the only available format in the Scholar Activity Tracker (bulk entry) beginning June 1.

You can't manage what you don't measure.

Login & Activity Rates

Track daily/weekly logins and record creation per user before and after. Salesforce's built-in User Adoption Dashboards on AppExchange make this straightforward.

Data Completeness

Measure required field completion rates and record quality scores. Engaged users fill in more — and fill it in correctly.

Support Ticket Volume

A well-branded, intuitive org generates fewer "how do I find X" requests. Track this before and after.

Staff Pulse Surveys

Ask directly: Does this platform feel like it belongs to our mission? A one-question Pulse tells you more than any dashboard.

Branding Matters....

We are 300+ individuals across three countries, but we stand united as One Team serving One Mission with a BEAUTIFUL brand.
